Election Aftermath

TYLER, Charleston attorney, seems to be greatly enjoying his ride around the square following the recent election. The horsepower motor at the rear of the vehicle wearing the "I bet on Nixon" sign is Dr. Charles E. Ramsey, who obviously bet on the wrong horse.

Holiday Period Discussed By Student Senate

STUDENT Senate meeting was held Thursday for the purpose of discussing, and possibly changing, the dates set for Christmas vacation.

Persons who wanted the dates changed felt more vacation time before Christmas should be given. Christmas vacation is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m., Dec. 22, and end at 8 a.m., Jan. 9.

Those who wanted the vacation to begin earlier said more time before Christmas would enable them to get better Christmas jobs, since most of the available work occurred during the shopping days prior to Christmas.

They also pointed out that students having great distances to travel home for the Christmas holidays would be inconvenienced under the present schedule.

Senators opposing the move said that, due to the present holiday athletic schedule, athletes would have very little time at home if the schedule were changed.

Moreover, they pointed out, a

Audubon Series Locations Changed Due To Attendance

LARGE CROWDS have forced a change in location for the remaining four Audubon Series lectures at Eastern. Dr. Walter Scruggs, series chairman, has announced.

All remaining lecture-film programs will be held in the Auditorium of Old Main instead of the Laboratory School auditorium.

Close to 500 persons attended the first Audubon lecture, with quite a number turned away.

The remaining Audubon lectures are Eben McMillan, January 26; Charles Mohr, February 23; Alfred M. Bailey, March 16, and William Ferguson, April 25.

Schaupp Tells Students About Library Courses

ALL STUDENTS who were not registered in Library 120 in the fall quarter or were registered and did not attend, must register and attend the three sections of Library 120 to be offered winter quarter. Dr. Roscoe Schaupp, chief librarian, has announced.

PROPOSERS OF the Universities Bond Issue are currently predicting the measure will carry with a margin of at least a quarter million votes if unofficial county reports are substantially correct.

The statewide "yes" vote for the Bond Issue is approximately 2,625,373 according to Harold E. Gibson, Normal, chairman of the Universities Bond Issue Committee.

Figures are not yet available as to the legislative vote in Illinois, but the presidential vote is about 4,742,000; and, according to Gibson, the legislative vote generally varies from three to five percent less than the presidential count.

To pass, the Bond Issue must receive a majority of the highest legislative vote—the total vote cast for all state representative candidates divided by three or the total vote cast for all state senator candidates, whichever is higher.

The downstate vote—all counties other than Cook—now stands at 978,454. Cook County total for the Bond Issue is 1,646,919.

Ninety of the 101 downstate counties have reported officially, while the remaining 11 have been submitted on an unofficial basis. Some Cook County precincts are still out.

A final report on Cook County was to have been made yesterday, according to Gibson, while the statewide official results of the Bond Issue vote should be known by the first of next week.

All areas of the state showed an increase in "yes" votes greater than the increase in total vote.

Indianapolis Symphony To Present Performance

Artists Series Attraction To Be Presented Dec. 5

THE INDIANAPOLIS SYMPHONY Orchestra, conducted by Izler Soloman, will perform at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 5, in Lantz Gym. Advance tickets are available at the University Union. Eastern students may obtain tickets by presenting their activity book.

Tickets for the public are $2.50 (reserved) and $2.25. Tickets for school children (grades 1 through 12) are $1. The performance is an Artists Series presentation.

The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra was accorded a position among the top ten orchestras of the United States in Holiday Magazine in 1951.

Although the orchestra had been organized 22 years at this time, it thus became the youngest of the musical groups in this exclusive bracket.

Also in 1951, the orchestra presented a sponsored telecast from the studios of WFBM-TV, Indianapolis. This marked the nation's first commercially-sponsored telecast by a major symphony orchestra.

Izler Soloman, conductor of the orchestra since 1956, has been conductor and director of such groups as the Illinois Symphony Orchestra, the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra, and the New Orleans Summer Symphony.

In presenting an award to Soloman, the National Association of American Conductors and Composers said:

"To Izler Soloman, who combines understanding and intelligent interpretations of contemporary American composers along with persuasive readings of the classics."

Born in St. Paul, Minn. in 1910, Soloman began the study of violin at the age of six and made his first public appearance a year later.

At the age of 18 he was appointed to the music faculty at Michigan State College. While at Michigan State, Soloman was asked to be concertmaster of the newly-formed Lansing Symphony Orchestra, the scheduled conductor having become seriously ill.

Thus, at the age of 21, his

conducting career was launched.

It has been Soloman's firm belief that a love and understanding of music must begin when a person is young.

He has given of his time toward this belief, having taught music in the public schools as well as having given hundreds of concerts for children.

Remaining in the Artists Series schedule are the American Allegro Ballet, January 31, and vocalist Roberta Peters, March 15.

New Dance At EIU . . .

Let's Do The 7th Street Bounce!

THE "TRAFFIC bumps" recently installed (or spilled, as the case may be) on Seventh St. between the Laboratory School and Fourth St. are obviously an attempt to not merely slow traffic, but rather to eliminate traffic altogether in this area.

This effort, however, has not been successful. Each day, two or three automobiles (usually with out-of-state license plates) may be seen attempting to negotiate the washboard surface. One of them occasionally succeeds.

The failure of this project can be traced, to a large extent, to poor foresight on the part of the Traffic-Safety Committee. Had they investigated the "solution" more thoroughly, they might have come up with a more reasonable solution.

As a sort of afterthought, we wish to offer the following suggestions, any of which, if followed, would have resulted in a more satisfactory arrangement.

In the first place, at least five percent of the automobiles in Charleston can clear the bumps at the posted speed limit without tearing their mufflers off. This is too high a percentage for comfort.

The track team has an unusually large number of low hurdles lying around, which, we feel sure, they would be willing to donate to the Committee to place at strategic locations along Seventh St. This would be an excellent solution.

Of course, should a car, in some manner, negotiate the first hurdle, there is always the possibility that it might bounce over the remaining barriers. We would take the chance, however.

If this fails to pass a short trial period, perhaps the right-of-way could be posted with signs exclaiming, "Stay Off—Missle Target Area!" To erase possible doubts in the minds of motorists, Cape Canaveral might be persuaded to occasionally fire a rocket in this general area.

And if, by chance, a missle should land in the street, then there would be no more street, and, consequently, no more problem.

Another possible situation is the installation of toll gates at either end of the road, with the inauguration of a $5.00 toll for each passage.

This would not, unfortunately, eliminate use of the road by local farmers receiving huge government subsidies for not farming. (The worst part of this situation is that they even rotate the crops they do not plant.)

Possibly the street could be seeded and watered, and then posted with a "Please Keep Off The Grass" sign." What about planting Gingko trees in the middle of the street? (This might keep children away from school, too.)

We feel sure that, armed with these suggestions, the Committee will reconsider its actions and adopt a more effective method of curtailing traffic on the thoroughfare.

Eastern Athletic Program . . .

The Way We Like It

DURING THE "discussions" sponsored by the Union Board Lyceum Committee ("Soap Box Oratory") last week, the athletic department came in for considerable criticism.

Dr. John Masley, in particular, was described in terms that were as disrespectful as they were emotional.

Without supporting or attacking any of the individuals involved in this controversy, we would like to make some general observations. First, the personal attack upon Dr. Masley was immature and ill-considered.

Such outbursts remind one of the segregationist mobs in New Orleans—generating a great deal of heat, but little light.

While we all like to see our teams show up well in inter-collegiate athletic competition, we should realize that Eastern is not Notre Dame—nor Southern, either. Even compared to the other teams under the Teachers College Board, we are small in enrollment.

We should also realize that the primary purpose of this University is not to field winning athletic teams. To attract "star" athletes here, we would have to offer something—we would have to buy them, in other words.

This would be illegal under present Board rules, as well as open to question from an educational standpoint.

Once these "star" athletes were here, we would be obliged to see that such valuable additions to the campus did not have to leave because of some such small matter as academic ability.

We would also, among other things, have to encourage students to attend away games to see the winning team play, class attendance not withstanding.

Before long, we would be fully indoctrinated. We would be proud of our little group of professionals. We would have school spirit. (This is assuming that the bigger and better-endowed schools would let us outshine them—which is highly unlikely.)

An intense athletic program—an athletic-centered campus, in other words—cannot be justified from an educational standpoint.

The present system under which students come here for an education first and participate in athletics second is the most desirable from any reasonable position—except that of the die-hard fan.

The rules we have against excessive recruiting practices are good. We would certainly be in no better position to bargain for players under a "wide-open" recruiting system—probably much worse.

On the whole, we have fared well in some sports, notably basketball and baseball. Our coaches enjoy a certain amount of peace of mind—knowing they will not be released for a "bad" season—which is very desirable.

Our athletes are respected members of the school community. They are amateurs deserving our support, not hired pros. The University is not dominated by the athletic department. It should not be if we value education. We like and support the present system.

Norwich Prof Terms New Test 'Guess-Proof'

NORTHFIELD, VT. — (I.P.) —

A way to penalize "blind guessing" on multiple-choice tests and at the same time reward partial knowledge of subject matter was recently described here by Clarence F. Willey, head of the department of psychology and education at Norwich University.

He presented a scoring system for such tests which allows the student a selection of three options for a five-part question, instead of the usual "one best answer" choice.

Dr. Willey recently read a paper describing his "Guess-Proof" test to the delegates of the sessions of the annual convention of the American Psychological Association, held in Chicago.

"These three options include one which the student believes to be correct—and two he believes to be definitely wrong," Dr. Willey said.

"The student is warned that he will receive a three-point penalty for labeling the correct answer 'definitely wrong,' but only a one-point penalty for simply missing the correct answer."

This method of scoring, Dr. Willey said, "rewards analytical judgment based on partial knowledge and reduces the influence of chance in achieving a good test score."

"Thus examinees no longer feel that multiple-choice tests are merely 'guessing games,' and the student who is not a likely Phi Beta Kappa prospect still can prove that he has studied conscientiously, and is able to avoid ridiculous errors."

The educator, who is the author of many articles on improvements in teaching methods, added that "it has been recognized for a number of years that a student who does not select the correct answer to a multiple-choice question may nonetheless have considerable knowledge of the subject for which partial credit should be given."

"The procedures previously proposed for doing this have been too cumbersome to be practical."

Letter To Editor Says Vacation Schedule Bad

Dear Editor:

The starting date of Christmas vacation at Eastern is too late. It should be moved up from the 22nd of Dec. to the 16th, and the date of resumption of classes should be moved up from the 9th of Jan. to the 3rd.

Because Christmas vacation starts so late, many students and faculty will not be able to take full advantage of it.

Most students and faculty could better make use of vacation time before the holidays, than after them, because of shopping and other pre-Christmas activities.

Many students planned to work over the holidays, but the greatest demand for Christmas season work is in the seven to ten days before Christmas.

Students getting out of school on the 22nd, will not be afforded many job opportunities.

By moving the vacation dates up to the afore mentioned, there would be the same number of school days (11) in the vacation, and the same number of total days (17).

Most students and faculty would find these dates much more convenient and useful.

Honor Courses Initiated

MADISON, WIS.—(I.P.)—A total of 334 brighter-than-average University of Wisconsin students accepted the challenge to do harder-than-average work by enrolling in the Honors program introduced by the College of Letters and Science this fall.

Of the total number, 245 students are freshmen and 89 are sophomores. Juniors and seniors will be offered an Honors program beginning in the 1961-62 fall semester.

The new plan, which is entirely voluntary for students, aims to "encourage and recognize work of greater depth, scope, and originality by undergraduates whose abilities and interest make them eligible."

It is the University's answer to the national need to spur the best young brains to work at full capacity by giving them tougher assignments, more individual guidance, increasing degrees of intellectual independence, and special library privileges.

The Honors classes are of four types: entirely new courses, especially designed for Honors candidates; completely separate sections of existing courses; special laboratory and discussion sections attached to present courses; and individual tutorials.

All courses have small enrollments to insure more direct and personal instruction, and all "H" students are assigned to special Honors advisers.

Under the new set-up, Sophomore and Senior Honors based on grade-point average alone will no longer be awarded, although students in residence when the regulations were changed will continue to receive them.

In the future the candidate for Sophomore Honors must have successfully completed with a grade of "A" or "B" at least 20 of his 58 credits in Honors courses, including a minimum of three credits in humanities, three in social studies, and three in physical or biological sciences, and must have a general grade-point average of "B". Similar requirements are required for Senior Honors.

All students enlisted in the Honors program are expected to earn grades not lower than "B" but they will not be penalized if they choose to drop out, or are dropped, from the program, unless their work falls below general University standards.

When Honors students majoring in one department elect work in another, they are eligible to take whatever Honors work is offered therein.

When the junior and senior Honors program gets underway next fall, students will be able to earn the special bachelor of arts or bachelor of science Honors degree if they complete the usual degree requirements plus.

The plus is that they must be Honors candidates their junior and senior years, have completed at least 40 credits of work in "H" courses—at least 25 of these in the junior and senior years—at least 40 in departments other than the major—and have completed the Honors curriculum in their majors, including a thesis or equivalent work.

STUDENTS WHO have not placed their parking stickers on their cars should do so at once, according to Rudolph D. Anfinson, dean of students.

Anfinson reports that several students have received tickets because of their failure to comply with the parking regulations set forth by the Safety and Traffic Committee.

He urged all students who have not already done so to register their car immediately, in order to avoid penalty.

EIU Basketball Season Opens December 3rd

EASTERN OPENS the 1960-61 varsity basketball schedule Saturday, December 3rd at 8:00 p.m. against the University of Wisconsin (Milwaukee Branch) in Lantz Gym and follow-up with tilts against Indiana State and the Alumni before opening conference play.

The Panthers will travel to Terre Haute Thursday, December 8 and host the ex-Panther stars in Lantz Gym Saturday, December 10. Following these tilts, Eastern travels north to face Central and Eastern Michigan Dec. 16 and 17, respectively.

However, coach Bob Carey feels the Eastern attack is far from ready for competition. After a full-scale scrimmage against the freshmen last week, Carey felt, "We need more consistency in our attack. It was too spotty."

The varsity nipped the first year group 77-75 without starters Lloyd Eggers and Larry Friedrich in the lineup. Guard Dick Carmichael netted 20 points to pace the varsity scoring.

Carey is expected to go with Gary Pals and Friedrich at the forwards, Eggers at center, with Carmichael and either Dick Planck or Larry Week at the guards for his starting unit against Wisconsin.

TKE and Phi Sig split in championship games against each other in touch football and soccer. TKE clipped Phi Sig 12-0 in football and fell 1-0 to the same opponent in soccer.

Knighthawks won four of six weight divisions to easily win the wrestling title with 146 points. Blasters were second with 52 points.

TKE 12 Phi Sig 0 — Lou Fornero, undoubtedly the best all-around player in the intramural ranks, accounted for both TKE scores. He passed 40 yards to Calvin Reynolds to gain his teammates a 6-0 lead in the first quarter.

Fornero, who led all intramural scorers with 74 points, raced 35 yards for an insurance tally in the fourth quarter.

Both teams showed strong defenses.

Blasters 13 Whiz Kids 12 (Third place)

Soccer

Phi Sig 1 TKE 0—Larry Mathews came up with another all-important goal in an overtime period to give Phi Sig the championship. It was Mathews who scored the lone goal in the 1-0 Phi Sig win over the Whiz Kids in the semi-finals of the playoffs.

Mathews also scored the only goal after 30 minutes of overtime during a regular season game against Sig Taus. He ranked second in scoring behind Sig Tau's Max Eldred for the season.

Phi Sig and TKE battled to a scoreless tie and after two minutes of the first overtime, Mathews scored on a penalty kick. It marked the sixth straight win of the season for Phi Sig.

Calhoun Named Most Valuable Gridder

JUNIORS CHUCK Keene and Val McPeak were named co-captains for next year and halfback Ken Calhoun was honored as this year's most valuable player Tuesday following honorary selections by the Eastern football team.

Keene served as a defensive end while McPeak was used both ways on the line at a guard position.

Calhoun, along with center Harvey Zimmerle, served as this year's co-captains. The Plymouth, Mich., senior, was the starting left halfback in eight of Eastern's nine games.

Eastern won two games and dropped seven in overall play and were 1-5 in IIAC play.

Honn, McMorris Honored By Cross Country Team

EASTERN'S cross country team elected Don McMorris as next year's captain and named Marvin Honn as this year's most valuable runner.

Both McMorris and Honn are sophomores and were usually the first two Panther runners to cross the finish line for the Eastern team.

Coach Pat O'Brien's team finished the 1960 season with a 4-4 dual meet record, fourth place in the State Meet, and fifth place in the IIAC Meet.

Winter Sports Preparing For Openers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is a rundown on the prospects of Eastern's varsity swimming, wrestling, and gymnastics teams for the 1960-61 season.

All three clubs open the home schedule Friday, Dec. 9th against Central Michigan.

By Ron Fritchley

Wrestling

EASTERN'S wrestling team, with eight returning lettermen on hand, is currently preparing for the season inaugural Saturday, Dec. 3, in the University of Illinois Invitational tourney at Champaign.

"We'll be a good dual team and an average tourney squad," relates coach Hop Pinther, who is entering his eighth season at the wrestling helm.

Four Panthers placed fourth in the 1960 IIAC finals and Eastern finished fifth as a team. Floyd Bee (123 pounder); Willie Myers (147 pounder); Jim Gardner (167 pounder); and Vern Vierk (177 pounder) make up the elite four-man list.

Gymnastics

FOUR RETURNING lettermen will give the 1960-61 Eastern gymnastics squad what coach Robert Hussey terms, "the best squad we've ever had."

Jack Goodfellow will be back on the trampoline, high bar, free exercise, and tumbling; Dave Stanfield will compete on the rings, high bar, parallel bars, side horse, and free exercise;

John Armour returns on the high bar, rings, parallel bars, and free exercise; and Fred Gaines will specialize on the high bar, side horse, and parallel bars.

Last season the Panthers compiled the best record in the history of the sport at Eastern by winning four dual meets and dropping five. They placed third in the IIAC finals behind Southern and Western.

Swimming

ENTERING ITS third season of competitive swimming, the 1960-61 Eastern swimming team, "with a great deal of improvement win a larger share of the non-conference meets," according to coach Bill Groves.

Eastern swimmers will be out to retaliate from a 1-6 record and a last place finish in the IIAC Meet.

Six returning lettermen are hand to help bolster the team chances.

Returning from last year's paddle crew are Jeff Andel, (breast stroke, middle and long distance freestyle); Roger Metzger (sprints, distance, and butterfly); Stan Lind, (100 and 200 yard breast stroke); Bob Stallman, (individual medley and butterfly); Jim White (breast stroke); and Bill Buckler (back stroke).

Art Exhibit Features da Vinci Reproductions

AN EXHIBITION including 150 reproductions of drawings by Leonardo da Vinci is on view at the Fine Arts Center. The display, celebrating the 500th anniversary of the master, will close Dec. 13.

Assembled by UNESCO, the exhibition has been chosen from an original selection made by Adolfo Venturi for the publication of Leonardo produced by the Commissione Vinciana.

The reproductions are presented in four sections. One section contains drawings made during Leonardo's first Florentine period (1469-1481), and includes studies for Madonna compositions, the "Adoration of the Magi," and related works.

The second section, containing the largest series of drawings in the exhibition, shows detail studies for the versions of the "Virgin and Child with St. Anne," studies and portraits of women, and designs for masques.

A third group shows studies for other famous works of the artist's maturity: the "Last Supper," the "Sforza" and "Trivulzian" monuments, and the "Battle of Anghiari." Included are a number of drawings of horses, studies of anatomy and proportion, and the series of catastrophes and deluges.

The fourth group includes a selection from the allegorical and satirical drawings from the caricatures; drawings from some of Leonardo's inventions as a military engineer; and drawings of rock formations, landscapes, maps, and plants.

The exhibition is being circulated under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts.

dance has been planned with the present schedule in mind. It was felt that a change in vacation dates would drastically limit attendance at this dance, thus losing money for the sponsors.

Those who favored the present schedule also mentioned that the Charleston High School vacation dates coincide with the present schedule. Student teachers at the high school would be inconvenienced under a change in schedule, they said.

Since no motion was made in the Senate to change the dates, the matter was dropped.

The Administrative Council will be asked to consider arguments pro and con concerning the matter when they set up the schedule next year, however.
